ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A Linguistic Assistant For Domain Analysis Methodology to help a user define object models from documents such as requirements documents and validate object models against such documents. The approach is domain-independent and 5   language-independent, mainly relying on widely available linguistic resources for the text analysis.